*Filtration Avoidance Water System

What do we do? Why do we exist? What benefit does this provide?

TWSA operates a Watershed Control Program as required by the USEPA for surface water systems operating with filtration avoidance. Unfiltered systems are reserved for only the cleanest of water sources and cost far less to operate than a traditional filtered system. The USEPA requires submission of an annual report on the Watershed Control Program. By forming an association, member agencies all pay dues to the TWSA and the TWSA operates a single program and generates a single annual report for the entire watershed, at a much lower cost than each agency would incur operating an independent program. This report is also used by many as supporting documentation during their annual sanitary surveys. IVGID provides staff for the operations of the TWSA as the host agency.
